GEORGE W. MOORE,

Our Mission.

GO. YE UNTO ALL THE WORLD, ETC .- MARK, XXVII.

Go ye, the children of my fold, And spread the news abroad, Go to the pations yet untold, And tell them there is a God.

You can not say, "I've naught to do," And sit there idly dreaming, And say, "I'll drink from the fountain true Where the Savior's love is streaming."

You must work with your might each day. If from this fountian you would drink, Nor ever let one precious soul stray And peri h on the dark gull's brink.

Think of the millions dying in China For want of a teacher true: And in the country of farther India God's creatures are calling for you.

Away on the lonely isles of the sea, Does that voi seall to distress us? Ah ! no, 'tis but a voice calling to thee, "Come over, Christians, and help us."

Come, dear sisters, and join with me, In this army so noble and trave, Let us go carry the light to be isles of the sea Though it brings us a watery grave.

I will go, I will go, for the same God of love Who has ever been with me here Will bring me at last to heaven above, And crown me with angels so fair.

Borbour's Digest.

A bill was passed last week in the Legislature providing for the purchase by State of 650 sets of Barbour's Digest of the Decisions of the Court of Appeals, at $10 per set, or $6 500 For whom are these books? And by what authority do judges and lawyers claim to be a privileged class, that the people are to turnish them with books upon law? Law is a luxury as those who indulge in it are well aware. We pay our judges handsome salaries, while lawyers are never moved by modesty to demand tees for their services has than what is recognized by them, the law allows them, let them pay for these Digests at their own cost.

The time has arrived when all such special legislators should be stopped as furnishing the legal traternity with libraries. No one ever hears of the honorable professions of seorgeons, physicians, civil engeneer,
